DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-20 are in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Harley in view of Critchfield.

Harley discloses a catamaran including at least two pontoons connected by a cross structure. Critchfield et al teaches the use of composite materials to construct hulls. In view of these disclosures, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to make the hulls of the vessel of Harley with composite materials including steel plating generally as taught by Critchfield et al.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-19 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 1/14/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments regarding the teachings of Harley and Critchfield have been carefully considered but are not deemed persuasive. Claim 20 merely calls for the construction properties of a catamaran. Harley discloses the general configuration of the catamaran and Critchfield teaches the use of composite materials with steel in the construction of marine vessels. The choice of the materials used in the construction of marine vessels depends on the application in which the vessel will be used or in the characteristics expected or desired from the vessel. The use of composite materials as taught by Critchfield would have been desirable in the construction of the vessel of Harley to provide strength of construction while maintaining a low weight configuration.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
